

Wish you all a very happy diwali

This DHANTERAS, better than buying Physical Gold, BUY GOLD ETF

GOLD has traditionally being the most preferred Investment Option in India. Financial Products emerged as Investment Options barely 100 Years back for common man. Historically, most of the people did not have enough money to buy land. Even today, skyrocketing land rates, Very high transaction costs and Lack of transparency in pricing etc. act as deterrent in making Land as preferred Investment destination.

It is often called Global Currency, as its value directly impacts the value of Currencies.

For generations, GOLD Jewellery was the only investment alternative to investors. But Jewellery has its own limitation, as Processing charges by Goldsmiths, physical risks with carrying and storage of Jewellery, high transaction costs, depreciation of GOLD value in Jewellery etc.

For buying GOLD Bars/Bricks there are various legal restrictions and these bars are of minimum physical weight and value as a result thereof. Again Risks involved in keeping Physical GOLD. Further, there are very limited reliable organizations that deal in GOLD Bars/Bricks.

Invest through your DEMAT A/C (GOLD ETF):

- There is NO Risk of carrying physical GOLD. Gold units are credited in Demat A/C like Share units.
- The transaction costs are the minimal. Its same as in Buying or Selling Shares.
- There is very high transparency in Pricing of GOLD units.
- There are No Risks of any adulteration or impurity that may accrue in physical GOLD bought from non reliable sources.
- Investors can buy or sell, as small unit as 1 gram on NSE.
- The only disadvantage is, you can not wear the GOLD units in DEMAT like you wear Jewellery.

The various GOLD ETF traded on NSE are (Please Click the link, given below)

The returns of various GOLD ETF differ marginally, We Prefer NSE GOLDBEES, due to high Volume and Low impact Costs

Weekly Snapshot

Week 17-21 October 2011

Date : 22 October 2011

As expected, markets went nowhere this week, but intraday volatility was very high and Opening with Gap (Up or Down) seems to be the new trend of NIFTY. (Gap Opening is very common in Commodities and Forex, but very unusual for NIFTY). It's the Results season and those who have come up with bad report card are severely punished.

What should be the strategy: With every sharp rise, increase Cash levels by exiting Weaker counters or where run up has been huge recently. Get into BLUE Chips on every correction.

Quarterly Report cards will continue to impact the scrips. For all Results related details, please check this link

Once the RBI meet outcome is known on Tuesday, we continue to like the Financial sector, SBI, PNB, AXIS, HDFC, ING Vyasa, Yes, Corporation, Andhra etc. offer good value on declines. IT Sultans are into correction, INFY, TCS, HCL, WIPRO etc. can be invested on dips. Auto majors like M&M, Tata Motors, Hero Moto, Bajaj, Maruti also look good. Heavy weights like Reliance, Larson which have corrected too sharply post results can also be looked at.

There are fair chances that on Mahurat Trading (Wednesday), 5200 may be broken on upside, however it will be too much optimistic to assume that 5323(4 Aug 2011) and 5229 (5 Aug 2011) gap filling is blessed by Goddess Lakshmi. Though nothing is impossible given Dow is nearing its 3 Months high (with all negative news from US)

Guess yourself, NIFTY Levels by 2012 Diwali

By 2012 DIWALI things should be much better than what financial news are today, if NIFTY heavy weights like RIL, SBI, LT, PNB, ICICI Bank, ONGC, SAIL, Tata Steel, Hindalco, NTPC etc. start moving towards their respective highs post 2008 carnage, think the next NIFTY Levels...!!

(Don't expect defensive FMCG & Healthcare giants which have led NIFTY recently to correct substantially)
